Sabbath School Lesson No. 9 for February 27, 1971
Subject: What A Task!
Keynote Verse: "And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15
Lesson Outline: 1. "Go Ye." Matthew 28:19-20. 2. Who? Me? II Cor. 5:18-20. 3. "One Thing Thou Lackest." Matt. 6:20-21. 4. Where is Today's Mission Field? Rev. 7:9. 5. Heaven to the Rescue! Dan. 12:34. 6. Now What? Hosea 6:3.
Jesus' command to evangelize is as direct as any other He gave. Though evangelism is implied as part of the Jewis theocracy in the Old Testament, Christ's concept of individual active evangelism is now. It is more than voluntarily coming to church because it looks holy and good. It is going into the highways and by ways to compel others to come in. Christ's name is the only one that saves. Acts 4:12. When all the world has received the message of Christ's saving love, when all have had the opportunity to consider truth and decide God can justly conclude earth's probation.

Worship Service – 11 o'clock

. . . Speaking About Vi! . . .

by Mrs. Joyce McCormick Vaughan

She was a servant of God, a faithful servant,
She was a wife and mother, a most loving one,
She was a friend to all, to all mankind,
The problems that were heavy on everyone's shoulders were made lighter by loving Vi.

She now is a child of the great God,
Her witness goes on forever.
Her constant smile lighted many paths.
Words could never express what she meant to the community because of her constant love and concern
God was near to her through nature and her loving hands arranged magnificent floral displays for the eyes of the beholder.

She was a creator of harmony where chaos dwelt,
A comforter to those with great sorrow,
Her faith radiated her salvation through her never ceasing faithfulness to her church.
And speaking of Vi, let me just say she was always there forever willing.

This loving Vi, to many, many lives was devoted.
She has touched so many people with her kind deeds.
Then Vi, personally to me was my earthly ideal. She was my Sunday School teacher and mission leader when I was a small child. She influenced many decisions in my life, others, too. She was there when I was married and my son was born. She has been a Christian example many could pattern their lives by.

We would never cease speaking of Vi,
For she was a neighbor with love and patience,
She was many beautiful things to many people.
Her closest friends have heavy hearts,
But rejoice with her in her salvation.

Could we not speak this of Vi?
It was her desire, to show concern and to be God's servant to all the people she could, in all the places she could, in all the ways she could, everytime she could, as long as ever she could.
For Vi really cared about others.
And speaking of Vi, we rejoice and feel great joy. Great was her faithfulness Lord unto thee.

"The South 40" by JAMES A. SMITH EXTENSION AGENT

Estimates recently prepared by two agencies of USDA indicate that it would cost U.S. Farmers an additional $290 million to maintain current agricultural production if 2,4-D and 2, 4, 5-T were banned from use on farms.

It was also estimated that farmers and their wives would have to work 20 million more hours to control weeds without these herbicides.

The Virginia Crop Reporting Service says that Appomattox in 1970 grew 6600 acres of hay, the yield per acre was 1.62 tons.

The 1971 allocation of dark tobacco is 12,612 acres. Appomattox's allotment was 11,685 acres. Essentially this means a 10% increase for 1971.

It's time to get small grain pastures dressed with nitrogen. For maximum it will be necessary to put nitrogen down while the soil is frozen.

Some work done in Oregon on the birth weight affects pig survival is of importance to Appomattox Swine Producers. The study used 450 litters. Pigs weighing 2.0 pounds or less had a poor survival. This work illustrates again the value of doing everything possible from the standpoint of feeding and management to produce larger, stronger pigs at farrowing.

The Virginia Hereford Association is holding its conference in Roanoke March 4 at the Hotel Roanoke. The theme will be "Merchandising Your Cattle."

We're having another change in the Spring Feeder Cattle Sale. Because of larger numbers being consigned, there will be two sales. Angus steers and heifers, regardless of breed, will be held on Thursday, April 15. Hereford, Charolais, Shorthorn and Crossbred steers will be sold Wednesday night, 7:30, April 21.

If you plan to market cattle in these sales we need to know right away. Contact Hugh Brafford, your Director, or this office.

Two bull sales are coming up that will be of interest to cattlemen. At Culpeper March 12 there will be 100 bulls for sale. The next day, Saturday, March 13th, there will be 61 bulls at Dublin.

These are the two BCIA Sales.

'National Party' Winners

Ed Bower (far left) is the "presidential candidate" in Intermediate School Room 7-A (Bernard Monroe, instructor in history) with Jeannie Stimpson, Jack Smith and Tye Beasley also making a try for the office in spirited mock convention of the "National Party". It's all a part of history-in-the-making as seventh graders simulate a party convention with state placards, balloons and marches around the auditorium to influence delegates. Three seventh grades will present candidates for an all-class election soon to determine a "U.S.A. winner." National Party" vice presidential candidate is Cindy Smith.

Paulette & Smith Win Awards

James Paulette (left) Lawson Ford service manager and Randolph Smith, parts manager, are the winners of the Medallion Manager Award for Exceptional Level of Efficiency and Performance during 1970. Both employees attended the Ford Marketing Corp. banquet in Williamsburg last week end where they were presented these awards.
